DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to the application filed on April 17, 2001. Claim 1 is pending examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sutcliffe et al., U.S. Patent No. 6,253,216.

As to claim 1, method for publishing report for display by a web browser initializing a report template area (see col.2, lines 21 – 24 and fig. 4, Sutcliffe teaches the initialization of a report template area by generating a page for display on a computer);

(see col.1 – col. 16) comprising:

adding report components to the template area (see col.2 lines 24 – 30 and fig.4 Sutcliffe teaches the inputting data means into pre existing area of the template hence teaching the adding of the report components to template area) ; customizing the report components by selecting pre-existing graphical, textual, tabular and/or other information for display in the report (see col. 2, lines 31 – 43 and col.3 lines 1 – 5 and fig.4 Sutcliffe teaches the customizing of the report component by allowing the user to contribute text and graphics to the report) ;

choosing a format for publishing the report; converting the report to the chosen format (see col.8 lines 23 – 33, Sutcliffe teaches Hypertext Markup Language document format for publishing personal user page hence disclosing the format for publishing the report);

sending and storing the converted report to a database (see col. 10, lines 6 – 14 and fig.4 Sutcliffe teaches the creating and editing of a report and storing it in data base hence meeting the limitation of sending and storing the report to a data base); and allowing access to the report by displaying the report using the format chosen on a client computer access a web server using a web browser (see col.6 lines 26 – 37 Sutcliffe discloses the access to a resource or report by the communication between the user's web browser and the web server using Hypertext Markup Language).

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Drug Document Production System by Umen et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,205,455.
